© 1996-2014, Amazon.com, Inc. or its affiliates Contact Support Parts & Repair Graded: Yes "Graded" televisions are items that High Street retailers can't sell on for various reasons. This may be because the TVs are surplus stock, end of line/discontined models, 30 day customer returns, unwanted gifts, or items with damaged packaging. When the TVs come into us at Electronic World they are technically tested, processed, repackaged and offered for sale, all televisions undergo a comprehensive quality control process by our engineers. In the majority of cases the item will be supplied with its original packaging and will be in excellent condition and are classed as "Grade A" - the items we sell are not used but can have minor signs of handling. If the original packaging is not supplied we will supply other secure packaging to keep the TV well protected in transit. Items are generally in excellent condition but can have some small marks on the outer casing/stand. Screens will be pristine unless otherwise mentioned. If there are any defects or noticeable marks/scratches we will attach pictures of the item and the description will detail any cosmetic damage on the items. All TVs sold on this website carry a 12 month 'return to base' warranty provided by ourselves (unless otherwise stated). Our guarantee on all of our products demonstrates our confidence in each and every product we sell. Upon collection the TV is unwrapped and you are given a demonstration of the TV for your peace of mind. This really is an amazing way to save hundreds off "Brand New" prices without sacrificing any of the quality or performance! Guarantee Period: 12 Months The length of time your TV is covered against technical faults. The guarantee covers all parts and labour costs involved in the repair. The guarantee is back to base which means in the unlikely event of a fault you can take the TV back to any of our 5 branches for repair. HDMI connection : 2 HDMI is a digital connection which carries sound and picture signals from peripheral devices (like a DVD recorder or Home Cinema) to your TV. If you want to watch High Definition programmes (eg from Blu-ray player, Playstation 3 or Sky HD Box) you will need to use the HDMI connection Product Details Specifications What is graded stock? How to buy With its stunning contrast ratio of 15,000:1 the Sony KDL32L4000 offers a superb picture quality. Thanks to the latest technology, this 32" Sony HD TV offers a picture more realistic than ever before from a TV of this class. With a raft of picture enhancing technologies from Advanced Contrast Enhancer (ACE) to Auto Noise Reduction, the KDL32L4000 offers crisp and precise images. From the company that brought you Blu-ray, you can not only expect the best picture compatibility but also the right selection of sockets to connect it all up. Clearly, Sony understands HDTV, which is why this 32" Sony LCD features a trio of HDMI sockets. Thanks to a digital optical output, the KDL32L4000 can be plugged into your home cinema system. This should give you the scale of sound from Freeview digital TV services to match the 32" HD screen. With its smart piano black finish and famed style, the Sony KDL32L4000 provides a quality of design that's every bit a match for its performance. For a 32" HD TV which matches performance with the style, the KDL32L4000 is well worth a look. Screen Size: 32" Picture Television Type: LCD Pixel Resolution: 1366x768 Measures the number of horizontal lines by the TV. A TV with a high pixel resolution will have more pixels on screen making images appear sharper and clearer. Contrast Ratio: 15,000:1 This is the measurement of the difference in light intensity between the brightest white and the darkest black. The higher the contrast ratio the better picture quality than a standard scart connector as they break the picture guality whilst the signal down to its red, green and blue component Video Connection: 1 The component video connection provides the highest picture quality of all the analogue connectors by splitting the picture signal into 3 components: brightness, colour and contrast. This results in reduced interference and improved picture signals from peripheral devices (like a DVD recorder or Home Cinema) to your TV. If you want to watch High Definition programmes (eg from Blu-ray player, Playstation 3 or Sky HD Box) you will need to use the HDMI connection Scart scurrently the most popular way of connecting TVs to other AV equipment. For improved picture quality you may want to consider upgrading to HDMI which carries digital sound and pciture signals.
